"Fun" Is Big Business . . .

There is a huge market in this country which doesn't seem to have been given as much analytical attention as it deserves. It can be described under the highly inclusive word "fun." An article in the June issue of Fortune by Doro A. Saunders and Sanford S. Parker subjects that market to extensive examination.

The American people are spending something like $30,000,000,000 a year on leisure and recreational activity, which is half as much again as we spend for either clothing or shelter. There are, of course, two obvious reasons why so vast a sum should be spent in this fashion. First is the shortened work week, which has given more people more free time—in 1929, the Fortune article says, the week was nearly 50 hours long, while now, leaving out agricultural workers and overtime, it averages about 40. This trend has been accompanied by a sharp rise in paid holidays and in the number of people receiving vacations with pay. Second is the dramatic jump in average family income. In 1929, write Messrs. Saunders and Parker, only 20 per cent of family units were in the over $4,000 bracket (expressed in terms of 1953 dollars) and they accounted for 54 per cent of all income. Last year, by contrast, 45 per cent of these units took in more than $4,000 and their share of total income was 72 per cent. Even so, the authors point out that the consumers' leisure preferences "are strongly influenced by habits, by social trends, and by other factors that have little connection with how much time he has or how much money is in his pocket." And the market's movements in late years bears this out. For, even as the total market has shown a great growth in dollar volume since World War II, expenditures for some items which are part of it have declined either actually or relatively—hard liquor and movie admissions being examples.

The authors divide the market into two parts. First are the most obviously recreational activities—spectator and participant sports; travel for fun, games and toys and so on—which account for $18,000,000,000 a year. Their second classification includes spending for alcohol, casual eating out, television, radios, records and musical instruments, which totals $12,600,000,000. This second group, they say in effect, is more or less static, taken as a whole. It is in the first group that the great growth has taken place and that the major potential for future growth exists. There are, however, exceptions here, and it is found in the fact that more and more people "itch to do things rather than sit and watch." Thus, between 1947 and 1953, total admission to all spectator sports and amusements (except for horse racing, which involves the additional element of gambling) slumped, even though consumer income and all the other important recreational factors rose, in some cases very materially. By contrast, the spending for the infinitely diverse things people can actually use their own hands—golf balls, hunting and fishing gear, boats and motors, home power tools, photographic equipment and so on—all soared. So did spending for mobility, in the form of auto expense, and train, plane and bus fares.

As for the future of the leisure market, it can be influenced by too many economic factors in and outside to make safe predictions possible. But it won't be surprising if it zooms on.

There has been 1,600 forest fires in Michigan so far this season.

Is it luck or is it skill? At any rate George Olson made hole 3 in one the last week. Mrs. Menno Corwin took a birdie on hole 7. During the past week birdies have been gotten by these gentlemen: M. Hanson, T. P. Peterson, E. J. Olson, W. H. Woodson, Jr., J. Lieut. Bates and J. E. Schoonover. Last week 177 played the course.

On June 1, 1931 there were 79,000 fewer private automobiles in operation in Michigan than on the same date a year ago, department of state records show. Also commercial are less. This has reduced the state's fees from the weight tax. The main reason for this decrease is the economic depression which has prevented many persons who own automobiles, from purchasing 1931 models.

Miss Annabelle Harris is filling the place of Miss Agnes Brozek of Alpena at the local telephone exchange.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Riley of Petoskey attended the Alumni banquet having been members of the 1903 and 1904 classes respectively. Mr. Riley taught the Royce school and the Benedict school in Beaver Creek 23 years ago. Mrs. Riley who was Ethel Hoyt taught in the Stephan set.

Success Story

--- AND A GOOD TIP FOR YOU

WHEN it comes to sales, every car maker aspires to be up at the top of his price class. Which is only natural. Popularity like that means success.

We know, because for years Buick has held such an envied position — the unquestioned sales leader in its class. And with good reasons in styling, room, power, value.

But today, folks like you have pushed Buick success even beyond such bounds.

Today, the top sales standings of a full generation have been changed.

Today, latest sales figures for the first four months of 1954 reveal this phenomenal fact:

In total national volume, regardless of price class, Buick is outselling all cars in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

That's a tip too good to pass up.

That's the tip-off that Buick must have the hottest styling of the times and the sweetest performance of the year.

More important, that's the tip-off that Buick prices are well within the reach of more and more people — and that such prices buy a lot more automobile per dollar.

So why not look into the latest styled Buick that puts you ahead today?

Come in, or phone us this week for a demonstration. Then you can judge for yourself that Buick really is the beautiful buy — by far.

- The GMC light-duty truck does more because it has, as standard equipment, a full 125-horsepower engine — the most powerful 6 in its class.
- The GMC light-duty truck saves more because its Truck Hydra-Matic Drive* ends repairs caused by shock-loading strains — ends all clutch costs — uses less gas — spares the tires.
- The Hydra-Matic GMC light-duty truck performs better because it always is in the correct gear for the need — regardless.
- The GMC light-duty commands respect with its dashing smartness — its look of quality — its spacious luxury cab, that make you and your wife proud to take it anywhere.
- The Hydra-Matic GMC light-duty truck handles easier because you never have to shove a clutch or shift a gear.
- The GMC light-duty truck costs less to own — less to run — than old-style trucks. Come in and we'll demonstrate it!

Insect Invasion of Michigan Threatens; Being Combated

An enemy invasion, which threatens to spread all over Michigan, is being combated in the central part of the state.

If present tactics are successful, the threat will be eliminated. If not, more extensive means must be employed. Already $150,000 of Michigan money has been appropriated in this battle. Future activities will be even more costly. The alternative—doing nothing—is infinitely more expensive.

The foe in this case is the gypsy moth. Insignificant sounding perhaps, but known to be one of the most destructive of insects. In its larva, or caterpillar stage the gypsy moth satisfies its prodigious appetite on the green leaves of trees, shrubs and other leafy plants. The larvae appear in such astonishing numbers that they can totally destroy all foliage in an area.

State officials were faced with the urgent problem of what to do. The choice was to immediately adopt a program involving spraying and other precautions in co-operation with federal authorities, or face a federal quarantine which would mean that stands out-of-doors would be inspected and certified before it could leave the area. They choose to take action.

"Never in the 30 years that I have worked in this field did I see such splendid co-operation between two branches of the government and the community," stated C. A. Boyer, chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry for the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Boyer told the story of how the gypsy moth came to be found for the first time west of Pennsylvania.

"A peculiar bug is raising havoc with my plants," reported a Lansing housewife to the city forestry office. "Will you let me what to do to get rid of it?"

Samples of the insect picked by these men showed it to be foreign to the area. They called upon Bower of the Agricultural Department; Dr. Gordon E. Guyer and Prof. Ray Hutton of Michigan State College; and the Michigan Department of Agriculture. These men identified the insect as the destructive gypsy moth.

Specialists of the Conservation and Highway departments were quickly called into consultation and the United States Department of Agriculture were notified. USDA sent 10 top experts, headed by Vern Odell, a leading gypsy moth fighter of 30 years experience in New England. Together they studied the situation.

Quick action was taken by the governor. He called the "Little Legislature" into emergency session and $150,000 was set aside for a mammoth "demolishing program."

The "Little Legislature" consists of members from the House of Representatives and the Senate Finance Committees. About $500,000 is budgeted each year for emergencies. It was from this fund that the $150,000 was appropriated.

Plans to spray 104,000 acres of Ingham and Clinton counties were put into effect. A four motor B-17 and three single motor planes were hired to spread 58,000 gallons of a DDT solution from an altitude of only 200 feet. The multimotor plane was to fly over the metropolitan area. Spraying was to be done when wind velocity was less than eight miles per hour. Cost of spraying: $76,560. Residents would also benefit from DDT effect of killing flies and mosquitoes.

Spraying contract was awarded to Central Airlines of Yakima, Wash., a group of flyers experienced in insect fighting in the country's forests.

Traps will be set for the gypsy shows what temperature the milk is and how long it has been in the pasteurizer. The charts are kept so that the state inspector can check and check. The state inspector comes when they don't expect him.

After the milk is pasteurized some of it is bottled and the rest goes to the homogenizer, which has 2,600 pounds pressure. The city has only 50 lbs. which pumps water to most of the houses around Grayling.

The homogenizer mixes all the butterfat with the milk so that the cream won't come to the top of the bottles.

From the homogenizer the milk goes to the bottles, on its way it flows over very cold pipes which cools the milk. It then flows into the machine that fills the bottles. The bottles are then capped. The bottles go to a little farther on a conveyor to a machine that puts cellophane and tapes it over the top of the bottle to make it sanitary.

The bottles are then put in cases and sold to the stores or delivered to people around town.

moth in a circular area stretching 50 miles in all directions from Lansing.

Boyer says that Washington has indicated to the state Agricultural department that money will be appropriated in the national office on a matching fund basis to help fight the moth if it continues to be a problem in Michigan.

Nature makes the gypsy moth a difficult opponent. Its eggs are laid on "almost anything"—from a stone to an automobile. From 4,000 to 5,000 eggs make up a mass as many as 400 masses are found in one group.

Eggs hatch into larvae which float through the air. When it lands, "it chews the heck out of everything green—even pine needles." Once developed into adulthood, the female quickly becomes so heavy with eggs, she cannot fly.

Reports of the moth in other parts of the state were not long in arriving. Several came from areas along US-16, Brighton and Detroit.

These, and all others that are made are to be quickly investigated. If conditions warrant, spraying and other weapons will be put to use.

Men have been fighting the gypsy moth for nearly half a century in New England. Every effort possible will be made in Michigan to win the battle early—before the enemy is able to become firmly entrenched.

And because trade-ins are continuing to pour in, this huge volume of used cars (all makes and models) must be moved and moved fast.

So we're pricing our used cars at rock bottom. Many current models of many different makes are selling for hundreds of dollars less than their original cost.

And remember, behind every one of our used cars stands the trusted name of a reputable here-to-stay-business man who has lots to gain by treating you right.
